PEORIA. Aug 2.—Peorla has always been the centre of the Fenlam agitation in this region, and Patrick W. Crows, the gasoline lamp sontracter, who says he manufactured the infernal machines shipped to England recontly on the steamers Malta and Bavarian, is one of the chief sgitators. He is a man of small stature, with dark complexion and an intelligent do intend to use it to prepare munitions of war devantile plots in which He says he is interested. He showed to a reporter to-day a letter from George Holgate, dated Philatelphia, Aug. 31, 1889, setting forth that Mr. Holgate owned the McClintock torpedo boat, which did execution during experiments with Runder water, which had cost McClintock his life; that he had regardless of Holgate would be a proposition from Snain for the boat, which fleet and could blockade any port, regardless of all the men-of-war in the world. The boat, Holgate wrote, would cost about 290,000 to build, and he would place it at Crowe's disposal. He said the boat would do more good for Irsland, and "fetch the British Government."

Crows told the reporter that shortly after the date of this letter the Executive Committee of the United Irishmen met in New York, Judge Brennan of Iowa, Capt. G. Splerman of New York, James Kenefle of Providence, Thomas H. Dwyer of Chicago, O'Donovan Rossa, and himpell were present. They discussed Holgate heards of England; but on Crowe's representing the British costed that it would be too expensive, and that they could be better work by decoulding the latter and Canada, and there are branches and the family of Judge Wandell were leiling from Queenes, Montreal, and in nearly every important city in the United Stries of the Stries of the Stries of the United Stries of the Stries

Brennan of Iowa, Capt. G. Spierman of New Tork, James Kenefle of Providence, Thomas H. Dwyer of Chicago, O'Donovan Rossa, and himself were present. They discussed Holgate's proposition and the scheme of devastating the shores of England; but on Crowe's representations decided that it would be too expensive, and that they could do better work by depositing in British ships torpedoes, which could be done for $25 apiece, and which would bring Emeland to terms by making it dangerous for people to go aboard British vessels. They decided, Crowe says, to take that course, Some time later the United Irishmen and Fenians joined hands in order to execute these plans. They are 6,000 strong, Crowe said, in the United States and Canada, and there are branches in Torone, Quebec, Montreal, and in nearly every important city in the United States.

These infernal machines, Crowe declared, are being made in every city where there is a branch of the order, and will continue to be made. We are working for the good of the Ould Sod," said Crowe, "and the manufacturers are no more inable to interference by the authorities than are makers of revolvers and cannon. Dynamits is no more vicious than powder; and with those weapons we can drive from the seasour enemy, destroy her trade, and make profitable business impossible." Some persons, Crowe observed, would have to die. It would be worse than Boyouting; but war was always cruci, and that war was easiest that went straightest to the mark, killed the most in the shortest time, and compelled cence.

The machines captured in England, Crowe reiterated, wore made in Peoria. The cases were of zine, and in the interior clockwork and explosives were packed. The clockwork and explosives were packed. The clockwork and explosives were packed, the largest block of buildings in the world. Many of the machines has been manufactured, hessid, and some were in France, in charge of trustworthy particle, who was always of the full mass of the small, and some were in France, in charge of trustworthy parti not conduct honorable warfare herself, and could not expect others to do so. If she did not do justice to freland every English ship would do justice to freland every English ship would be sent to the bottom, until people would no longer dare to embark in them; every Government building would be torn down, and a system of terrorism would be begun. After Sept. I no English vessel would be safe.

Some of the shells are on exhibition here, but there is nothing to include that those already used were made here. It is thought that the shells only and being made here, and that the plesives and muchinery are at other points, owe explains his dynamite theories with the greatest composure and willingness.
Crowe has not been arrested, but is still providing the city lumps with gasoline. The rerortof his arrest was a hoax perpetrated upon a credulous reporter.
Chicago, Ili. Aug. 2.—A despatch to the Times from Feerin, Ili., says that Crewe was arrested at noon on Monday by a Deputy United States Narshal by order of Attorney-General Mac-Veach, and that $10,000 bail was tendered and rejused until his hearing before the United States Court. The despatch continued: "Crowe, with his bendsmen and the Marshal left for Chicago at 1 o'clock this morning. Crowelook matters very easily. He said he had disposed of his affairs here, and was going to devote the remainder of his life to the cause of Irish freedom. He intended coing through the country to raise an army. It is understood that he is arrested for violation of the navigation its arrest was a hoax perpetrated upon treedom. He intended going through the scountry to raise an arms. It is understood that he is arrested for violation of the invigation have, and that he will be held on that charge."

The United States Marshal here says there is no truth in this report. No arrests have been made, and neither the Marshal nor any of his deputies has been in Peoria on that business. A later desough from Peoria on that business. A later desough from Peoria on that business. A later desough from Peoria any the reported arrest was a practical poke. The United States Marshal has received no orders and will not arrest anybody without specific authority.

DETECTIVE BROWN'S CAPTIVE.

A Man who is Accused of Five Burgiaries and is Suspected of Murder. Detective Brown of the New York, Lake Ericand Western Railroad Company on Monday afternoon noticed in the depot at Jersey City a man acting in a suspicious manner in the waiting room. He approached the man, and when he got within a few feet of him the man pulled his hat down over his eyes, and rushing past the detective, made for the ferry house, The detective overtook 1 im and was surprised to find that the man was James H. Storms, who is wanted in Bergen County for burglary, and who is suspected of having been concerned in the murder of Johini Aumack, the brakeman who was killed by a gang of tramps at Sterling Junction on the 9th of March last.

When Storms was arraigned vesterday morning. Sheriff Pell of Bergen County was in court, and told the Junge that the prisoner was wanted in Hackensack on five charges of burglary. Two constables from Warwick, Orangs County, N. Y. were also in court. They said that Storms was wanted at Warwing for burglary and attempted in unled. The prisoner was turned over to Sheriff Pell and taken to Hackensack. Detective Brown, who says ha is conflicint that Storms is the man who fired the shot that killed the brakeman Aumack, will endeavor to secure aufficient evidence to have him tried for that crime. to find that the man was James H. SECOND READING OF THE LAND BILL

IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

Why Parnell was "Named" in the Commons -Arabe Plundering Farmers Near Tunts -The Liverpool Plotters Convicted. LONDON, Aug. 2.—The House of Commons last night passed, by a vote of 111 to 12, a motion giving precedence to Government business over all other business until the close of ness will be that of supply. Mr. Gladstone incion act in the discussion on the Appropriation bill for the Irish expenses. Mr. Parnell was not satisfied with this postponement of the question; hence the scene when Mr. Parnell was "named," and, by the vote of the House, he was suspended for the remainder of the sitting. Soon after Mr. Parnell quitted the House a majority of his followers held a consultation with him, and it was decided that the English and Scotch, as well as the Irish votes in supply shall be questioned, on the ground that they affect Irishmen resident in Great Britain.

Mr. Parnell was present at the meeting of the Land League in Dublin to-day, and announced that the League would hold a national convention in Dublin on Sept. 15 to consider the best means of obtaining Irish land for Irishmen. The suggestion was approved. Mr. Parnell advised tenants not to trust to the Land bill.

Messrs, Murphy and Campion, two of the principal members of the Rathdowney (Queen's County) branch of the Land League, have been arrested under the Coercion act.

At a meeting of a hundred Conservative peers at Lord Salisbury's residence y esterday to consider amendments to the Land bill, amendments suggested by Lord Salisbury were unanimously agreed to, in addition to those already stated. They include one similar to that of Mr. W. H. Smith in the House of Commons, providing for the examination and revision, after six years, of the duties and constitution of the Land Court.

In the House of Lords to-day the Duke of Argy! (Liberai), in an hour's speech, attacked the Land bill, to which, however, he said, the Government to a jelly fish. He advised the Government to a jelly fish. He advised the Government to tell the Irish that they will henceforth support the decisions of the courts, and that poverty is no excuse for wrong. He said there was a feeling of bitterness and humiliation which was not confined to that House in being obliged to accept a bill to which so many had strong fundamental objections. Universal power, he said, is given to three men of valuing rents all over Ireland, which was eminently ridiculous, and giving absolute right of sale to everybody was eminently unjust. He particularly stacked the provision enabling the Land Court to interfere in leases. If the effect of the bill was to retain the poorest class of tenants on holdings it would only perpetuate the difficulties in Ireland. No people could prosper who, like many Irish tenants, had been pleading poverty as an excuse for fraud.

The Duke of Marlborough (Conservative) also spoke in condennation of the bill.

The second reading of the bill was adopted without a division and the

ARAB DEPREDATIONS IN TUNIS. Stealing Cattle and Cutting Telegraph Wires

-Europeans Alarmed. LONDON, Aug. 2 .- A despatch from Tunis says that the Arabs are still continuing their depredations around the city. Cattle and horses were yesterday carried away from two other farms near Tunis. The departure of the expedition of the Bey's native troops into the interior to chastise and disperse these marauding bands is fixed for Sunday next, but there is still great difficulty in collecting a sufficie number of soldiers to join the expedition. The Arabs have destroyed the telegraph wires, and workmen, accompanied by a mounted force, will have to repair the lines connecting Tunis with the coast.

BANK ROBBERS IN COHOES. An Attempt to Rob the Manufacturers' Bank

Frustrated by a Clerk.

COHOES, Aug. 2 .- A daring but unsuccessful daylight robbery was attempted at the Manufacturers' Bank of Cohoes this afternoon. At about 1 o'clock a well dressed young man entered the bank, and pointing to a carriage that had just driven up to the door, said to the Cashier: "There's a man out there wants to see you. The Cashier left the building, meeting a second man in the entry way. The man who first enthe session of Parliament. The principal busi- | tered the bank then produced a $20 bill and timated that Irish members would be able to bank attaché present, to change it. While raise the question of arrests under the Coerson engaged the second man walked directly toward the directors' room in such a manner as to cause a belief that he wished to see some one on business. Reaching the door of the room, near which stands a large safe, he see some one on basiness. Reaching the door of the-room, near which stands a large safe, he suddenly turned and grabbed from the vault a package containing $9.500. Clute hampened to notice the act, and, snatching a revolver from his desk, pointed it at the thief and ordered him to drop his booty. At this juncture the man who had asked for change hurried from the bank and jumped into the carriage, and, with the man who had remained outside, rapidly drove away. The follow him, but Mr. Clute was too quick for him. The thief, fearing that he would be shot, dropped the money, and when Mr. Clute stooped to pick it up he darted from the bank. A cry of "stop thief" soon caused a large crowd to pursue the runaway, who, after a hot chase, was found under a bed in a building about three blocks from the bank. He at first declined to give his name, but subsequently said he was John Petrie, a painter from Troy, but he has been identified by parties in Troy as a person who registered at the Mansion House in that city under the name of Frank Murphy, and who claimed a residence in New York city. Murphy and his confederates made a similar and also unsuccessful attempt to rob Cipperly, Cole & Hasiehurst's banking house in Troy.

THE PRESIDENT'S CONDITION.

STEADY IMPROVEMENT REPORTED BY THE ATTENDING PHYSICIANS.

His Pulse and Temperature Again Running up Yesterday Afternoon, but the Fever Entirely Subsiding Before Night Came On. WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The President is reported to have been very comfortable to-day. and Dr. Boynton says that his voice seems to be a little stronger. This, and the evidences of bealing along the track of the wound, increase asked Discount Clerk Clute, the only the feeling of confidence that he is going to esbank attaché present, to change it. While cape any more relapses. The only thing that is not satisfactory is the continuation of the fever. To-night it is higher than it was last night. For six days now the pulse has been over 100 at night, and the temperature has wavered about the 100 degree point. So long as this high fe-ver lasts the President cannot get along very rapidly. The continuous presence of either Dr. Hamilton or Dr. Agnew is regarded as indicating that confidence that all dangers are passed does not exist. The following despatch was received at the White House to-day from the Earl of Shaftesbury: LONDON, Aug. 2, 1881.

Mrs. Gardeld:
World's Conference of Young Men's Christian Associations, now sitting, records its deep gratitude to God for the preservation of the President's life, and earnest prayer for his complete recovery.

Secretary Blaine replied as follows: The Earl of Shaphadary, President, Exster Hall, London:
Mrs. Garlied has received your descatch, and requests me to vapress through you to the World's Conference of Young Men's Christian Associations her grateful appreciation of their pious and devoted interest in the weiters of the President. James G. Blaine, Secretary of State.

The President Mass of States, secretary of Sala.

The President has rested quietly since the evening examination, and the slight fever which was apparent at that time has entirely subsided. At 11 P. M. his pulse was below 100, his temperature and respiration were normal, and he was asleep.

I. EXECUTIVE MANSION, Aug. 2-8:30 A. M .-The President passed a very pleasant night, and slept sweetly the greater part of the time. This morning be nwoke refreshed, and appears comfortable and cheerful.

4.20 P. M.—Dr. Bliss reports at 4:30 P. M. that the President has had to-day the best day he has known since his mjury. His appetite is good, and he takes nour-ishment well. His voice is noticeably stronger than at any time heretofore, and he has been all day entirely tive from lever. The rame of his pulse has been below 16% and his temperature and respiration have continued to be normal. In all respects he has made favorable progress toward recovery.

T. P. M.—The President has continued to progress faw orably during the day, and appears perceptibly better in his seneral condition than yesterday, a more natural tone of voice being especially percentible. The appearance of the external wounds at the evening dressing was exceedingly gramitating, while the discharge from the deeper portion of the wound, which is abundant and healthy comes through the counter orening made by operation. The rise of temperature this afternion is moderate and attended by no treconvenience to the patient. At present his pulse is 104 temperature, 100; respiration, 20. D. W. BLISS.
